

PWNHealth Adds Wealth of Clinical Expertise Through Impressive Advisor Network

Highly Qualified Group Bolsters PWN's Leading Position in Industry

NEW YORK. June 21, 2016 – PWNHealth LLC, a leading provider of services to enable diagnostic and genetic testing, today announced that it has added multiple clinical advisors to continue providing best in class solutions for its customers. The advisory group will help the Company's clinical leadership team adhere to its mission of fostering improved outcomes by engaging patients with their health through innovative delivery models and reduced barriers to diagnostic testing.

PWNHealth was formed in 2015 in partnership with private equity firm EDG Partners to acquire the lab authorization services division from Medivo, Inc. The Company offers physician authorization, lab connectivity, and genetic counseling solutions to a variety of customers.

"We take great pride in our clinical services," says PWNHealth's Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Doug Elwood. "The group of advisors we have assembled has tremendous clinical expertise across multiple specialties and various industry sectors and expands our capabilities accordingly."

The advisory group includes:

- Dr. Brent Blue: Practicing primary care physician and founder of several health service companies
- Trish Brown: Genetic counselor with commercial experience in emerging areas such as consumer genetics, whole exome sequencing, pharmacogenetics, and more
- Dr. Kecia Gaither: Practicing Maternal Fetal Medicine Specialist and Board member of several health entities
- Dr. Dave Kisor: Doctorate in Pharmacy and national leader in pharmacogenetics
- Elissa Levin: Genetic counselor and leader in consumer genetics
- Dr. Jason Levitz: Practicing oncologist
- Peter Levonian: Over 20+ years in community and academic cancer genetics
- Dr. Rob Monroe: Clinical pathologist with specialty in clinical lab oversight and molecular genetics
- Dr. Gary Richwald: National Preventive Medicine/Public Health and Communicable Disease leader with extensive experience in sexually transmitted diseases
- Dr. Edina Torgykes: Medical geneticist with clinical, research, and independent medical review experience
- Dr. Dan Wild: Practicing GI physician at academic medical center

"The addition of this group of clinical advisors strengthens PWN's leadership position in providing innovative solutions to drive health and wellness," says CEO Sanjay Pingle. "The network also affords us expanded clinical perspective and insight as we grow into new service areas."
